CLAYTON PLAYING GOOD BALL

Makes Four Put-outs and One Assist at Capital City Park Yesterday, Besides Getting One of His Club's Three Hits—Gallagher's Hand Still in Bad Shape—Baseball Notes.

By N. T. WORLEY.

American Security and Trust Company's victory over Twining yesterday was unexpected by the majority of the fans, although it was well known that the Bankers had a strong batting team. Snowden's terrific home run, with two on bases, and his triple, which enabled him to score on an out, gave the Bankers the contest, and Snowden deserves credit for the victory.

Cornell Company hardly looks like the same team since the series opened. Vaughn, considered to be the best third baseman in the city, is out of the game for the rest of the year with a broken ankle, sustained in a game with Ninth. Phillips had the nail on the first finger of his right hand torn off in the fourth inning yesterday, and Baggett is playing with a broken digit. Despite these injuries to his players, Manager Cornell is optimistic and cannot be convinced that the Commissioners will even give him a run for his money this afternoon, when the two nine meet to decide the championship of section A. "Dick" Robertson is slated to pitch, and those who have watched the Departmental League perform predict that he will give a good account of himself to-day, and make up for the defeat sustained in the last game against the Paperhangers.

Manager Cornell is going out this morning early to practice for to-day's game. He feels that he may be called upon to play right field in case any more of his players get hurt. Besides, his friends have pointed out to him that Maurice O'Connor once played a whole game in right field, and that under the circumstances he ought to make good.

Hats off to the genial "Jim" Sprigman. Whenever "Jim" takes hold of a team we are going to pick it to win in the future, for he's "the man who delivers the goods."

The Twining boys are repeating over and over to themselves "too much Rawlings." We agree with them. It was "Reggie" Rawlings who gave the Independence Leaguers their defeat when the Herald team played Twining, and yesterday "Shag" was on the job and landed the deciding contest.

The board of arbitration is waiting until all the evidence is in to decide the eligibility of Phillips, of the Cornell Company. Mr. Thatcher, a member of the board, stated over the phone that nothing could be done until certain parties had submitted their view of the case.

"Letty" Clayton played good ball in left field for the Petworth nine, grabbing four flies and getting an assist in a double play at the plate. He also drew a pass and made one of his team's three bingles.

Petworth played the kind of ball which won it the pennant in the Suburban League yesterday. The boys took heart when they saw how crippled the Tigers were and played twice as hard. O'Neil, Stewart, and Gallagher were missing from the "Baby Doll" line-up.

"Bernie" Gallagher's hand is still in such shape that he is unable to pitch, and it is barely possible that he will play in the present series. To say that his friends are disappointed would be putting it mildly, as they were counting on him to land several games for the Suburban Leaguers through his good baseball work. However, "Bernie" did not hurt his hand on purpose and cannot be blamed for his present misfortune.

We printed a heading, "Tigers Gnaw Babes," when the Cornell team defeated the Petworth club, in the first battle between these two organizations, and after yesterday's game we were besieged by the Petworth tribe with suggestions as to an appropriate heading this morning. Some of the headings mentioned were: "Babes Eat Tigers," "Hungry Babes Balked," "Babes Defy Tigers," and numerous others. At any rate it is certain the Tigers failed to get their prey.

Austin Howard struck out three times when he faced Engle in the Bankers-Independence clash. The fourth time to Howard was safe on the shortstop's error.

It was learned yesterday that "Dutch" Menefee is ineligible to play with the Cornell Company nine, he having played in but one or two games with the Paperhangers this year. "Dutch" would come in handy about now.

If the matter can be arranged, The Washington Herald team will play the Adams Express nine on the grounds at Fifth Street and Florida avenue northeast Saturday, instead of at Thirteenth and D streets northeast.

The Columbia Printers would have pulled off a triple play in yesterday's clash with Adams had not one man been already out. With McMahon and Barron on first and second, Stewart hit a fly between center and right, which McCarthy caught after a hard run. Both runners thought it was a safe hit, and chased around the bags, making it easy for McCarthy to toss the ball to Boyd at second, who threw to Weaver at first, neither of the runners having any chance to return to the cushions.

BIRD SEASON OPENS.

Anacostia River Alive with Trappers and Gunners To-day.

Anacostia River and other hunting grounds within the District will be alive with trappers and gunners to-day, when the red bird and blackbird season opens at daybreak.

It is said that the red birds are numerous, but in only fair condition, on account of the failure of the wild oats crop this year. However, hotel tables and family board will be well supplied.

The favorite spots for the gunners are near the Penning Bridge and the Anacostia Bridge. The eleventh precinct force will see to it that the restrictions are obeyed.

BANKERS LAND FLAG

Heavy Hitting at Critical Stages Tells Story.

ENGLE STRIKES OUT TEN MEN

Although Beaten, Twining Slab Artist Twirls in Form—Snowden Gets Home Run with Two on Bases and a Triple—Losers Get Three-run Start in First Chapter.

Six hits in the last three innings, one a home run with two on bases and another a triple, overcame the early lead which the Twining team gained in the opening inning at Thirteenth and D streets northeast yesterday, and gave the American Security and Trust Company nine of the Bankers' League game, with which is conceded also the championship of section B.

The losers shoved three men across the plate in the first round on an error, but last hit cleaning up the bases. The Independence crowd failed to get another man across until the seventh, when Clements' triple and an out gave them their fourth run.

American Security made their initial tally in the fourth, when Snowden tripled and scored on Rawlings' single. In the fifth, the Bankers took the lead, which they maintained throughout. After Holland had ballooned to short, Howard reached first on an error by short. Davis then made his second hit of the afternoon, and Snowden followed with a home run, which sent in two men ahead of him. The winners made their last run in the sixth on two hits and some fast base running.

Engle slightly outpitched Rawlings, fanning ten men and walking none and being hit for eight bingles. Rawlings struck out six, passed three, hit a man, and was hit six times. Two long hits were made off each twirler.

Twining was unfortunate in having their errors come at a time when some one would follow with a hit. There was little difference in the fielding. Davis handled his five assists at third base in a sensational manner. Downey also did some good fielding.

Adams won their first battle of the post-season series yesterday when they routed the Columbia Printers, 5 to 1. The Expressmen walked away with the game from the start, scoring three runs in the opening session on a base on balls, an error, a triple by Hanover, and a double by Jewett.

Jewett twirled a good game for the winners and did not allow the Printers a hit until the fourth, when Weaver singled to left, but was left on the bag, as the next three men went out in order. The Expressmen made their lone tally in the sixth, when Elliott led off with a triple down left field foul line and counted when Sues doubled to left.

"Pop" Elliott played a good game at second for the Printers, handling six chances in good style. He also scored their only run and connected for a triple. The official score:

INDIANS WILL PLAY.

Cross Bats with Washington Giants Labor Day.

What promises to be one of the most exciting games seen here this season is booked for Labor Day, when the Washington Giants clash with the Green's Nebraska Indians at American League Park. The Indians have proven their superiority over most of their rivals this season, but with Stoneval Jackson and "Tom" Johnson on the firing line for the Giants, a hard-fought contest is guaranteed. Sunday the Giants play the All-Stars (white) at Union League Park. Game called at 2:30 o'clock.

Petworth Plays Cornell Tribe to Standstill.

MARCERON MAKES THREE HITS

Besides Cracking Out a Double and Two Singles in Three Trips to the Plate, "Bilby" Piffled Three Bases. Two Double Plays Made—Moran Has a Bad Day—The Score.

Petworth tied the Cornell Company at Capital City Park yesterday, 2 to 2, and came within an ace of taking the game in the last inning, when the Suburbanite crew got a runner on third and two out.

The Paperhangers presented a patched up appearance, with Vaughn out of the game, Baggett playing with a broken finger, and Phipps, who was injured in the early part of the contest, on the bench with a split digit.

The Capital City Leaguers scored in the opening round, when Moran and Marceron doubled. They made their second tally in the fourth when Marceron singled over second, moved up a peg when Phipps walked, stole third, and scored on a sacrifice fly by Kenney.

An error by Moran gave Petworth a start in the fifth. Oakley sent a slow one to the Cornell short gardener, who tossed it wild to King, the ball rolling through the wire screen, which permitted Oakley to complete the circuit, owing to the ground rules. Barnes drew a pass and scored on Mayne's double.

In the last of the sixth, the Jones aggregation made a great attempt to get Clayton around, after he had been given a life on an error by Moran. "Lefty" stole second and went to third on an out, but died at that station when Seitz's long fly was swallowed by Keane.

"Bilby" Marceron cavorted about on the sacks in his usual frisky style, stealing three bases in spite of all the Suburbanites could do to catch him, and whanging the ball for three hits, a double and two singles, and his playing was the feature of the day.

Two good double plays were made, one by each team. In the fourth, Clayton nabbed Noyes' fly to left and doubled Phipps trying to score, while in the fifth, Mosberg hunted to Kerr, who threw to first, catching Clayton off the bag.

The Petworth boys played an errorless game, but were unable to hit Kerr successfully. Barnes kept his, the seven hits of the Paperhangers, well scattered, the first round being the only session when the Cornell tribe got two in one inning.

Rockville, Md., Aug. 31.—While the races were in progress to-day, Arthur J. Marks, who claimed to be from New York, was placed under arrest by Sheriff Vlett on a charge of bookmaking. He was taken before Justice Reading in the Police Court, who adjudged him guilty and imposed the maximum penalty—$1,000 and one year in the house of correction.

Marks noted an appeal and his bail was fixed at $2,000. Later he was before Judge Henderson in the Circuit Court on habeas corpus proceedings, and the bail was reduced to $1,000, which was furnished. The case will come up for trial at the November term of the court.

Miss Mina and Saltham in Lead at Rockville.

GOOD RACING CARD GIVEN

Special to The Washington Herald.

Rockville, Md., Aug. 31.—Two harness and two running events composed the racing programme at the fair this afternoon and furnished some excellent sport.

The 2:24 trot, the first race of the day, was captured by Miss Mina, owned by George C. Hillery, of Washington. She dropped the first heat, but took the next three handily. Maj. Forest and Miss Kushan had a lively struggle for second money, the latter getting the decision.

After finishing second in the first heat of the 2:30 trot, Stampitt struck his gait and lead from start to finish in the next three heats.

Saltham, owned by M. C. Copperthite, of Washington, captured the mile run. After running second nearly all the way, he overtook Flat Creek in the stretch and won by two lengths. The others were outclassed.

The final race of the day, the six-furlong race, was a walk-over for Firebrand, a Baltimore horse. He assumed the lead at the jump and won easily by ten lengths. Helen B. had to extend herself to the limit to take second place from Benilda.

HERALD NEWSBOYS CHEER BOY WESTONS

Leave This Morning on Walk to Los Angeles.

Cheered by a crowd of newsboys, Teddy and Charlie Fox, of New York, left The Washington Herald office this morning promptly at 3 o'clock on their ninety-day "bike" to Los Angeles, Cal., a distance of 2,650 miles, for a $2,000 purse.

Leaving The Herald office, the boys went up Fifteenth Street to Thomas Circle, up New Hampshire Avenue to Eleventh Street, and thence to Takoma Park. Striking the road the boys will walk to Galtersburg, following the pikes to Harpers Ferry and Cumberland. They expect to average forty miles a day.

Passing through Cincinnati, they will strike out for St. Louis, taking the Santa Fe route across the prairies through New Mexico to Los Angeles.

The trip is being made at the expense of a well-known New York banker. The boys will, when possible, stop at the Y. M. C. A. in various cities and towns along the route, where the managers will see to their welfare.

Upon arrival at a town, the boys report immediately to police headquarters, where they are "recorded." Teddy carries a collection of newspaper clippings and a book containing the autographs of prominent persons met en route. It is with pride that Teddy can point to President Taft's autograph, which is among the first in the book.

They have been granted a permit to walk on the roadbed of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad by C. E. Phelps, passenger agent, and expect to use that way of traveling on a great part of their trip to St. Louis.

They will return to New York in time to resume their studies after the Christmas holidays. Teddy Fox attends Fordham University and his brother New York University.
